Description

The importer needs to treat works differently even if it is the same work by the same author but with a different editor.

Here is what must be done to support this feature:

1. The method for looking up existing works must use the list of editors for the purposes of disambiguating
2. The name of the work should be appended with the editor's name so that it can be disambiguated from the other work
3. The editor must be extracted from the TEI document

#2 - 11/22/2012 09:13 AM - Luke Murphey

The importer does correctly now import works with the same editor if one does not attempt to prevent duplicates. We need to import the editors though.
